Membership Info

What is a co-op brewery?

Co-ops are democratically owned and operated by their membership. They exist to benefit their membership in ways far beyond the customer loyalty program. The idea behind High Five Co-op Brewery is to bring together the strongest craft beer community, here in West Michigan, and build a place that benefits them beyond the average mug club.

Our core values are made up of the 7 principles of Co-ops:

- Open and voluntary membership
- Democratic member control
- Member economic participation
- Autonomy and independence
- Education, training, and information
- Cooperation among other cooperatives
- Concern for the community

We truly believe in these principles and their ability to foster a healthy, sustainable, and socially responsible business. Applying them to a brewery operation makes sense to us.

The fun part of membership and more!

Become a member of High Five Co-op Brewery today and join our journey in shaping our vision of cooperative beer.

$150 buys your Lifetime Membership to High Five Co-op Brewery. There are no renewal fees – your membership makes you part owner in our brewery.

We are always holding events to bring our membership together, share brews, collaborate with other breweries, and create a learning environment for local home brewers.

It's just plain fun to be part of High Five Co-op Brewery in these early stages. If you ever wanted to be part of a local startup business or get on the inside track of a brewery in development, this is your chance!
